

About DJ Mathon

Mathon grew up in southern Holland where, in the early nineties, he developed his passion for dance music. Starting out as an early adopter of the genre, his passion became an obsession. He felt obligated to share this feeling with others and turned to deejaying with one main goal: entertaining people with the best beats around. The choice he made at that time turned out to be the one of a lifetime.

The country of Holland turned out to be the worlds most influencing place for dance and house music and Mathon grew alongside it. Playing his 'building up beats' in various clubs around the world, he developed as the party DJ that got people to dance. Among the venues he played are Bora Bora, Somy, and Balearica, which are now legendary in Ibiza. Traveling the world, Mathon set the floor on fire in Holland, Belgium, Oman, Spain, Portugal, Kuala Lumpur and many more.

Now residing in the south of Spain he produces his own music, in his private studio, in the town of Malaga. Many of his own productions find their way into his deejay sets and do what they do best: get people to move their feet. Playing the decks as resident DJ in various clubs in Holland and Spain, he's ready to conquer the world.
